MINERAL KING

THE CLOSEST major airport to Mineral King - as the crow flies - is the Porterville Municipal airport, shown in above photo as it relates, location-wise, to the area that Walt Disney will develop as a multi-million dollar winter ski and summer resort area. The distance is approximately 36 air miles, compared to about 45 air miles from the Visalia airport. Road miles, when the new 65 freeway is completed through to highway 198, will be only about six or seven miles more from the Porterville airport than from the Visalia airport. The Porterville airport is often open during winter months when other San Joaquin valley fields are fogged

in. (Farm Tribune and M&W Flying Service photo)

MINERAL KING JUST OVER THE RIDGE

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 10 — Contrary to the apparently general idea that Mineral King is in "the other end of the county", this High Sierra area that will be developed by Walt Disney as a winter ski, and summer recreation area, is "just over the ridge" from Porterville.

In fact, by air, it is only 36 miles away from the Porterville Municipal airport, while it is some 45 air miles from the Visalia airport.

At the present time it is easier to get to Mineral King from Visalia.

BOB WILEY ON NATIONAL TV SUNDAY

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 10—Bob Wiley, nationally famous calf roper from Porterville, and now a candidate for sheriff of Tulare county, will be seen on ABC TV's "Wide World Of Sports" broadcast of the National Finals rodeo, held in December, at Oklahoma City — Bakersfield channel 17 and Fresno channel 47.

Wiley, a former Porterville college student who has ranked in the top five calf ropers of the nation for several years, says he worked in front of the TV cameras during the National Finals, and "unless they cut me out for a commercial", local rodeo fans will be able to see him in action.

ANNOUNCED CANDIDATE for Superior Court judgeship in Tulare county is Jay R. Ballantyne, district attorney in Tulare county since 1958. He will seek the post that will be vacated by the retirement of Judge Robert K. Meyers. He began his legal career in Tulare county as a deputy district attorney in 1952 and 1953; he was in the private practice of law for five years, then was elected - and reelected - to the district attorney office.

DOLLAR DAYS

Downtown Porterville Merchants will be hanging out the Bargain signs next week as they stage a Dollar Days Sales Event on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 17, 18, and 19. The special bargain days are under the auspices of the Merchants' committee of the Porterville chamber of commerce.

BURTON BOND MEET TONIGHT

BURTON, Feb. 10 — A mass meeting to discuss issues of a bond election for the Burton Elementary School district has been called for tonight, Thursday, in the Burton school, 7:30 p.m.; election date is next Tuesday, February 15.

Presiding at tonight's meeting will be Dr. Chester M. Sewell, chairman of a citizen's committee favoring the bond issue. Members of the Burton school board will be present to answer questions.

Editorial Comment

LET US WALK WITH LINCOLN

Abraham Lincoln, wrote the poet, walks at midnight. And so must the many many others who strove and fought and died to preserve for the world a strong United States and the peace, equality and humanity it was created to enshrine.

With them, in our own midnight of concern, walk many of us, the living; seeking from the nobility of purpose, the courage and dedication of those honored dead, an increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure.

With them, let us have Lincoln's faith that right makes might; and in that faith let us, to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it.

Rev. N. J. Thompson

Wills Hill, master of the family estate at Hillsborough, Ireland, was a gifted and colorful personality of the 18th century. He was Secretary of State for the Colonies at a time when the settlers in America were rebelling against George III.

Benjamin Franklin was in London, and the "Hillsborough Conference" was arranged. But the five days spent at the conference table were fruitless. Franklin hoped to persuade the Secretary of State to work out a compromise.

PEOPLE ARE CRUDS. PISMO — WHERE DEBRIS MEETS THE SEA

Observations by a clam-digger on a cold and wet February week-end...

Pismo Beach is like an aged movie queen. She is beautiful, if you don't look too close. The poor man's Palm Springs, where the debris meets the sea.

At low tide the beach is littered with people. Many observe the ocean through a windshield. Slick cars purr up and down the sand and the beach is not unlike a freeway. You can control the environment inside a car. But, outside, that ocean, that's something else. The ocean doesn't play by the rules, no clearly marked depths. It can't be heated, cooled, packaged, or programmed, just dirtied by man, descendant of apes.

Grandmothers in stretch pants stalk the beach, Coors in one hand and Kents in the other. What-ever happened to the nice old gray-haired ladies who used to knit?

The rattle of exhausts fill the air. The beach buggy crowd has landed. Long, oily hair and a grease stained T-shirt. Cool. Boy-men who have never realized that to avoid revolution and bloodshed. Hill, however, was totally opposed to giving the colonists independence. He demanded that Mr. Washington and his ragtag army of rebels lay down their arms, and forget this nonsense of fighting Great Britain.

Hill's attitude toward his distinguished guest was one of hostility and arrogance, almost contempt. He treated Franklin as though he were an enemy, instead of an ambassador of good will. Later, Hill said angrily, "Ben Franklin, instead of walking the streets of London, you ought to be in Tyburn or Newgate prison."

The rest is history. Since the Secretary closed the door to a negotiated peace, the colonies fought England, and won independence.

How different the course of events might have been had Hill taken a liking to Franklin, his fellow-Englishman, at the Hillsborough fireside in that winter of 1771! Hill's ugly attitude cost his king the loveliest jewel in his crown.

Your attitude toward your neighbor, your boss, and your country makes a greater impact than you think. Your attitude can build up or destroy, give hope or despair, love or hate. Your influence for good is in direct ratio to God's influence on you. Before you can bless, you must first be blessed.

May God bless you richly.

an automobile is just a machine. A generation of men with gasoline for blood, a transmission for a brain, and a carburetor for a heart.

We Only Heard

BY BILL RODGERS

SO, IT'S an election year, and the various office holders and aspiring office holders will soon be swarming in from the county capital to seek our vote and our support. We saw these people four years ago; some of them we helped, in our small way, to elect. But most of them we have not seen in our office, nor have we heard from them, since they called on us at election time. Somehow or other we get the idea that really the county of Tulare in the minds of some political figures, is the courthouse, and the boundary stops at the parking lot... That is until an election year rolls around... We don't blame office holders entirely. Actually you and I are to blame for letting them get away with this every four year business, then forgetting we simple folk out in the hinterland... Well, it's just a passing thought in this election year of 1966.

ROY HARTLEY, way up there in Springville, has his problems. He subscribed to The Farm Tribune, and we sent the paper to Ray Hartley. Roy was recently elected president of the Springville chamber of commerce, but the press picked up the story as his brother — Don Hartley... Now, Roy, or Ray, or is it Don, president of the Springville chamber of commerce is trying to figure out who he really is. And that's important, since he is working the Porterville area for advertising in the Springville-Sierra Rodeo program. So to set the record straight — it's Roy Hartley, and assisting with program advertising are Ken Fox, Lee Centell, Don Robinson, and Anna Harrington.

WE GET the word that Sandy Ward had a hole-in-one at Morro Bay. A straight shot, says Sandy, that was headed for the cup the minute he hit it.

DAVIS HARP, our fearless sport columnist and in the dim, dark ages of the past a football player

It is quiet in the morning on the beach. The tide is high and the cars, beach buggies, and small motorcycles can't get on the beach. There is room to walk, if you don't mind wading through rubble reminiscent of the Porterville city dump. People are crud. You realize this seeing Pismo Beach dressed in its weekend finery of beer cans, potato chip bags, orange peels, candy wrappers, soft drink bottles and oil cans.

Up the beach a way the decaying body of a seal perfumes the air. Or is it just the people?

of some renown, says he has a broken-up knee just like Joe Namath. Harp says the only reason he didn't sign a pro contract for $400,000 as Namath did is because he doesn't have the same kind of throwing arm... Silly, isn't it, that being so much like Namath at the knee level such a little difference at the arm level could cost Harp a half million bucks.

SO JIMMY Hoffa comes right out with it and says it's time all union contracts throughout the United States have the same expiration date. Of course good old Jimmy would never tie up the nation with a strike. Not Jimmy... But, on the other hand, Thomas L. Harris, a very sharp and talented analyst for the California Teamsters' council, recently told Porterville Rotarians that sooner or later the Teamsters will organize agricultural labor, and "you farmers will have to like it or lump it."

BONNIE SICKELS IN MODEL YMCA LEGISLATURE

TULARE, Feb. 10 — Five high school students from Tulare county, all members of Hi-Y clubs, are participating in the 1966 California YMCA Youth and Government program. Representing the Visalia YMCA are Bill Tow and Diane Adams of Visalia, representing the Tulare County YMCA are Nancy Andrews of Tulare, Ellen Kurihara of Orosi and Bonnie Sickels of Porterville.

The Youth and Government program is a six month learning experience about California's government. An election campaign for state officers, writing of legislative bills, bill hearings, training in parliamentary and legislative procedures, and public speaking and debate are all part of the training program which each student participates in.

The climax of the Youth and Government program is a Model Legislature, held in the Senate and Assembly chambers in Sacramento. (Continued On Page 7)

Around The Campus At Porterville College

By Glenn M. Edwards
Since this is the first of what I hope to be many columns for The Farm Tribune, it might be a good idea if I gave a brief explanation of the column's purpose.

I attended high school in Fresno, and when I told three of my classmates that I would be going to college here in Porterville, they didn't even know there was a Junior College in town. When I began to become more closely involved with the college last September I found that general lack of information about the college was the rule, rather than the exception.

So this column was conceived in ignorance — not a very auspicious beginning to say the least. My purpose will be to pass on to the community some of the happenings out at "Harvard-by-the-Highway" and hope they give you a better understanding of just what makes this old JC tick.

The big news last week was, among other things, the success of Russia's Luna 9 moon shot. The general feeling among the students was that the Russians deserved some reward for all their previous failures. Dan Aloot saw the event as a result of our national policies. We are taking too much money away from our space effort to pour it into the Vietnam War and the War on Poverty. Carl Campbell reported that he was too worried about China to worry about Russia. For that matter, he went on, he was also too worried about Saigon.

On the sports' front, intramural volleyball was the big thing this past month. The faculty scared up a team (the Faculty 5 + 1) and challenged all who dared to

We spent $220 million last year so you could keep on taking us for granted.

Flip a switch. The lights go on.

You can take it for granted because Edison doesn't.

Last year alone, Edison spent $220 million on new plant construction to keep your low cost electric supply as abundant as ever.

A thousand people a day move to Southern California and everyone is using more and more electricity.

Since World War II, Edison has invested $1.8 billion in new plants and equipment. That figure will almost double by 1970. New construction expenditures in the next five years will amount to some $1.4 billion.

As a result, Edison customers will have all the low-cost electricity they need the moment they need it.

Or put another way: you can continue taking us for granted.

Our Town—

By RUTH LOYD

Eric and Rita Green are living it up in the Islands for a few days. Eric in a grass skirt would be something to see. If Rita can do the Hula as well as she can play golf she is going to put some of the professional dancers out of work. Last Tuesday evening Pat Morey, Flossie Strange, Dee Balderama and Lois Natzke planned a surprise going-away party for the Greens. I tried to call one of these lovely ladies to get the facts about the party, but I guess they are all playing golf, so Eve Goodman gave me the dope. Anyway the party was a complete success. A surprise party isn't much good unless it is a surprise, and this was a real surprise. It started out with a Happy Hour at the Bunnan and everyone stuck goodies on the money tree, then dinner and speeches. The best speech was given by the Greens' son Eric. Impromptu speeches are difficult, but young Eric was equal to the situation and proved it to the assembled group. Have fun Greens. The Islands are the place to have fun.

Buster and Alberta Unser had their 28th anniversary. Louise Hutchinson gave me the dope. At first she was sure it was their 27th anniversary, but after she got thinking about the whole thing, she realized son Doug was about 27, so I must get my facts straight. Anyway the anniversary was celebrated at Rosso's, and Mel-

Entomologist To Present Citrus Pest Control Information At Grower Meeting In Terra Bella

TERRA BELLA, Feb. 10 — Research and field personnel will meet with growers to present latest information on citrus pest controls at the Veterans' Memorial building in Terra Bella, February 16, at 2 p.m. The meeting, one in a series through the southern San Joaquin valley, is being arranged by the Agricultural Extension service.

Dr. Lee Jeppson, University of California entomologist, specializing in mite control problems, will bring growers up to date on the research he is conducting. His colleague, Dr. Louis Riehl, whose major work for many years has been with compounding, analysing and testing spray oils, will discuss "narrow range" oils and their possible application in citrus pest control.

Current recommendations on local pest control problems will be discussed by Don Avis, entomologist. Karl Opitz, Tulare county farm advisor, will outline the effects of nutritional sprays and their use with pest control materials.

All citrus growers and pest control operators are invited to attend the meeting. Similar meetings will be held next Tuesday morning at Sanger; Tuesday afternoon at Orange Cove; Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock, at the Lindsay Memorial building; and Wednesday afternoon in Bakersfield.

MINERAL KING

salia than it is from Porterville, but, with completion of the new Highway 65 routing to the intersection with highway 198, the Mineral King resort will be virtually as accessible from Porterville as from Visalia, in fact it will be only about six miles further to Mineral King from the Porterville airport than from the Visalia airport.

And when comparison is made of the Porterville and Visalia airports — well, there isn't much to compare, since Porterville has two major runways, Visalia only one, and since the Porterville airport, being out of the Tule fog belt, is considerably more fog-free in winter months than is Visalia.

All of which adds up to the fact that the Porterville municipal airport could have a significant future in relation to the Mineral King development, since there is no doubt but that skiers will charter large planes throughout the United States to fly in for weekends — or longer — at Mineral King. (After all, U.S. skiers now charter planes for weekends in Switzerland.)

And with improved road facilities, plus the best basic airport in Tulare county, Porterville could well become the terminal point for airborne skiers, and buses into the resort.

There are virtually fog-free locations in the Sierra foothill valleys east of Porterville where a 5,000-foot auxiliary airstrip could be located — an air strip that would not only serve on those few days each winter when the Porterville airport is fog-bound, but would also serve as an emergency field for general valley air traffic, both private and commercial.

Nearest airport, at present, to Mineral King is at Three Rivers, however, this is a small field, not suitable for large planes, and it is doubtful that it can be sufficiently enlarged to satisfactorily serve multi-engine aircraft.

So what is needed in the Porterville community now?

We suggest that air-minded citizens, and business-minded citizens, put together an aggressive, working committee to develop and distribute detailed information on the Porterville Municipal airport, and that, in addition, the Porter-

BURTON BOND MEET

Both the school board, headed by S. E. Jackson, and the Burton School Parents' club, headed by Mrs. Donna Goucher, are urging a "yes" vote in next Tuesday's election.

Following is a statement issued by Dr. Sewell:

It's as simple as this! Burton school population is outgrowing present facilities and from indications of constant new residential building in the area, it will continue to grow for several years to come. We need a long range program to cope with the emergency rather than sweating it out on a piecemeal basis.

Immediate needs are three new classrooms and an addition to the school cafeteria, including a teacher lunch room. It will be a total cost to the district of $15,000 which will qualify us for an additional $133,000 in state aid funds.

But these rooms will be full by the time they are completed and the present site will be filled to capacity with 600 students and all the buildings the state will allow.

ville chamber of commerce road committee build up a real head of steam in pushing for improvement of highway 65, not only between Elmco and Ducor, but on north of Lindsay.

There can be little doubt but that when the Mineral King development is completed, road travel from southern California into the resort will show great increases, and that the proposed rerouted and improved highway 65 will become a necessity to handle both summer and winter traffic.

Political pressure for highway 65 improvement and construction, as well as Porterville airport use development by local interests, should be of interest not only to Porterville people, but to everyone in southeastern Tulare county, for the generation of air and ground travel by the Mineral King development carries a great economic potential in the form of tourist and winter sports dollars for the entire southeast section of Tulare county.

Where do we go from there?

The district has an option to buy a 13-acre parcel of land just south of the present campus on which it can build eight more classrooms. It will cost $136,000 in district funds, which will call in an additional $299,000 in state aid funds for the necessary expansion. This includes 8 classrooms and site improvement on the 13 acres. This is for the future and will be done only as district assessed valuation and bonding capacity increases with growth.

But remember, the district must supply a total of $151,000 to qualify for the overall $422,000 in state aid money. We don't have that kind of cash; only by voting in the authorized sale of $151,000 in bonds and granting permission to the Burton School board to deal with the state department of school house planning for the funds can we hope to handle the upcoming overcrowding crisis.

Already Burton Kindergarten classes are on double sessions. Without extra classrooms more classes will be forced into "half-time" school programs. The school now operates 16 classes in 15 classrooms.

In addition, 300 students eat daily in a cafeteria designed to seat 150 students. Teachers eat in a small supply room.

What of the future? Plans show that some 400 homes will be built in the district within the next five years. Add students from these to the already crowded conditions at Burton and it is complete chaos, not school.

Your support of this bond issue will NOT cost you one additional cent in increased taxes. You pay $2.22 per $100 assessed valuation in taxes now to support Burton School. That amount will remain the same. Passage of the bond issue now extends the length of time it will take to retire the bonds. And it gives future newcomers to the area the opportunity to help pay for their children's schooling at Burton in years to come, as they rightfully should.

A "yes" vote on both issues on your ballot February 15, will insure that present and future needs of our school district will be cared for. The trustees then will not need to bother us every year or so for more building money to keep the school district up with the increased demands of ever increasing population. This will also eliminate the expense of an election every year or so.

Vote "yes" to approve the $151,000 bond issue. Vote "yes" to give the trustees the right to deal with the state of California in our behalf for state aid funds. Your help is urgently requested.

DR. CHESTER M. SEWELL, Chairman, Burton School District Citizens Bond Committee

We shouldn't mention it but have you noticed how much better your yard looks after a few days of rain? Even a short shower does more than all the materials and know how that we have to sell. It's possible we could bottle some of this stuff and sell it as nature's answer to our gardening problems. Good for yellow leaves, weak branches, and run down sap. Come to think of it maybe we should stand out in it too.

This week we are tempting you with roots of red hot poker, canna lily, Madeira vine, bleeding heart, phlox, garden gloxinia, Transvaal daisy, and lily of the valley. These all come bare root which means they are removed from the soil, like carrots, and should be replanted in the next few weeks. Many of these plants are only available for a limited time and you need to plan accordingly. You might start this planning by getting the old fireball off the couch and onto his feet. Then ease him out into the invigorating outdoor air and lock the door behind him. This may not get the yard work done but the complaining should be good for his lungs. At least you'll know he is still breathing.

This month is good for sowing new lawns, planting flower and vegetable seed, and setting out the small started plants. Tomato plants are available along with hot caps and a strong belief that they may yet freeze. Come soon to "E" Street North of Olive.

TOM McCALL IS LINCOLN DAY SPEAKER

EXETER, Feb. 10 — Tom McCall, Oregon's Secretary of State, will be the featured speaker at the Annual Lincoln Day luncheon of Tulare County Republicans, tomorrow, February 11 in Exeter.

McCall, who is a candidate for governor of the state of Oregon, has a long history of public service in that state. For many years he was a television and radio news commentator, then began his political career as administrative assistant to Governor Douglas McKay in 1949. In 1964 he was elected Oregon's 18th Secretary of State, receiving the largest vote of any candidate in Oregon in recent years.

The Lincoln Day luncheon, at 12:00 noon in the Exeter Memorial building, will be preceded by a press conference there for McCall at 11:30. The luncheon will be prepared by the Lindsay-Strathmore Republican Women's club. The public is welcome, but reservations are necessary. They may be made with any member of the Central committee at a cost of $5.

MORE THAN 400 persons visited the new Villa Manor Retirement residence during an open house Sunday, with the just-completed facility on Villa street designed and furnished in excellent taste as a "home", not an "institution." Photos show, top left, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson, owners, with Kathie Eason and Larry Eason, their grandchildren, from Glendale, and, center, Kim Thurber, of Porterville, their niece. Other photos give some indication of the facilities - living rooms, recreation rooms, physical therapy room, parlor, dining room, and outdoor areas. Villa Manor has a Public Health license and a Social Welfare license - the only dual-licensed home in the county - and is designed and staffed to care for persons needing nursing service, and those who are ambulatory, non-ambulatory and non-sick.

Listed as exciting new talent is 11-year-old Gary Garcia, vocalist; he will also do a native Philippine dance with Debbie Dulay.

And in the same category are Val Guzman and Barbara Carillo, a Spanish dance team; and Arvada Eggman, a high school junior and country singer. Miss Egg-man will appear with some difficulty since she suffered a broken leg and will be in a cast.

Vocal music will also be offered by The Cornerstone Singers, the Joaquin Singers, Margie Sickels, Rod Sanders, and a group that is auditioning for a national TV show — The Countrymen.

Among those who have appeared in the City of Hope spotlight in past Spectaculars will be Linda Hayes, vocalist; Ralph Bernier, concert pianist and composer; the Madrigal Singers, directed by Dean Semple, and those colorful singers of barbershop harmony — the Ultrasonics.

Bill Pukmel, singer and humorist, will do his version of "Mac The Knife"; The Flashes will do a baton twirling routine; Eddie and Billy, from the Fabulous Studio band, will present a comedy act; Max and His Friends, from the Porterville State Hospital will be joined by Alice Peterson and Stan Tice in a musical number.

The Panther Band Majorettes have worked up a special routine for the show; Marie Antoinette, from Mexico City, who was first presented last year in her colorful Spanish dance, will again entertain; and Donna Kotchevar will be at her singing electric organ prior to curtain time, and during the intermission.

Backing the show, and appearing in featured spots will be the Fabulous Studio band, directed by Shaffer, and Bill Rodgers will again MC the show.

The City of Hope Spectacular is a project of the Porterville Auxiliary of the City of Hope, headed by the Rev. Ragnar Kjeldahl, who will introduce City of Hope dignitaries during intermission.

All proceeds from the show go to the City of Hope medical facility at Duarte — a facility dedicated to the conquest of catastrophic diseases.

Tickets for the show can be purchased at Porterville stores with a City of Hope sign in their window, or at the door on show night. Admission is $1.00 for adults; 50 cents for children under 12 years.

Serving as ushers will be members of the Porterville High School Panther band, and the band's Orange Blossoms.

Final rehearsal for the Spectacular has been set by Shaffer for tomorrow, Friday, at 7 p.m., in the Memorial auditorium.

BOND ELECTION AT TERRA BELLA

TERRA BELLA, Feb. 10—Date of April 19 has been set by trustees of the Terra Bella Elementary school for a $230,694 bond election to provide funds for construction of eight new classrooms, toilet facilities, library addition, a kindergarten room, remodeling of the kitchen in the school auditorium so that it can be utilized by the school cafeteria, and remodeling of the present kitchen into a boys' workshop.

Four-color promotion banners, developed by the California Beef Council, will be used this year to promote the sale of beef throughout the United States.

Porterville Cosmetologists' Association

Spring Hair Styles Are For The Birds... Literally

According to hair fashion authorities, the most popular spring styles are the Dickey-Bird Hair Fashions — lighthearted and gay styles that bring a fresh, romantic look. The new styles are designed to harmonize with new Spring wardrobes. They feature a small head look — almost a petite head look — dramatically accented with softly waved hair that flips up into a crest on one side.

In hair lengths for Spring, chic hair is short hair. Exact length depends upon individual needs. The shaping must be done professionally for elegance and beauty.
